Hearing Is Today

The re-registration of Dean K. Webster of Sunset Rock rd. in mid-June is the issue at stake this morning, when the State Ballot Law Commission meets in the state house at 10 o'clock.

Republican hopeful George Marad, 81 Morton st., challenged Webster's right to appear on the primary ballot as a candidate for the nomination for state senator from the Fourth Essex district. Marad and Webster filed nomination papers for the Republican primary - one will be selected to meet Senator James P. Rurak of Haverhill in the November election.

In local action on the complaint, the Board of Registrars has voted unanimously to reject the plea that the local board declare Webster's re-registration illegal.

The issue revolves around use of the "III" after Webster's name.

Boards To Meet On U.R. Plan

A three-way meeting Aug. 20 may pave the way for a solution to the location of a town hall under the Urban Renewal plans.

The Selectmen, Planning Board and Housing Authority will sit down at 8:30 that evening to discuss two suggestions for the location of municipal structures.

The Urban Renewal plan places the town hall on the Barnard property, on the north side of the square.

The Planning Board's consultants recommend building it where the Musgrove building now stands.

Urban Renewal director Ernest N. Hall asked the Selectmen to meet on the question, because the location of the town buildings can drastically affect the projected cost and credit estimates of the Urban Renewal program. He has explained that location of the facility on Main st. would cut out some commercial property, that thus would be taken off the tax rolls. It is possible, he has stated,

Garbage Bids Under Study

At least one of three garbage collection bids is lower than the town's appropriation.

Consideration of the three bids was a major topic at last night's Board of Health meeting, according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

The town appropriated $25,000 for the year; it also was agreed that a three-year contract could be signed providing the annual cost was no greater than $25,000.

The E & M Disposal Co. of Rowley, on an alternate bid, established a price of $10,750 for six months and a total amount for three years of $64,500. This works out to $21,500 for each 12-month period.

The same firm bid a total of $66,100, for three years, using packer bodies, as compared to closed-in dump trucks on the lower bid.

Albert Fiorante, 65 Adams ave., Methuen, proposed a three-year total of $76,500, or $25,500 for each 12-month period. He, too, would use packer bodies.

Mr. Duff said each bidder will

Lovejoy Road Will Be Pitted, Scarred, When School Opens

Question Next Step On Project

Concerned town officials are seeking ways to get some of the work done on recreational facilities at the high school, in the face of bids that exceed the appropriation.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, members of the School Committee and the architects met yesterday to survey the plans, and determine whether they can be reduced for a second time, or altered in such a way as to get some work done.

Only one of six bids came within the $40,000, and that appeared doubtful because of an extra price for removal of ledge. Five bidders, including that price in their general bid, exceeded the appropriation.

Arthur Schofield submitted the low bid of $35,620.05 - but added the stipulation that a charge of $5 per cubic yard of rock removal would be made. Officials doubted whether, when figuring in the extra payments that might be required, the bid actually comes within the Lovejoy rd. - a vehicular and pedestrian nightmare - will stay in its present condition long after the new Sanborn school opens in September.

And some portions of the construction-scarred road will stay that way until next summer, predicts Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

The street condition is of major concern to school officials, who foresee as many as 100 children walking to school, plus the usual bus transportation.

Mr. Duff said the police department is including money in its budget for two additional crossing guards for Lovejoy rd., and a third for Essex st. downtown.

Additionally, he hopes that a sidewalk can be at least roughed in for use this year, from Dascomb rd. to the school. Youngsters walking to school from the Lowell st. area have sufficient area off the travelled way on which to walk, the manager stated.

A ride along Lovejoy rd. Tuesday showed the street surface to be in poorest condition from Lowell st. to the school. Water installations this summer caused the usual type of disruption, and other sections of pavement are torn up and holes

Vote To Send Money To State

Based on assurances from State Rep. Arthur Williams, the Selectmen have agreed to advance $1,500 in engineering funds for further work on Rogers Brook.

Although the State Division of Waterways will get the funds before the work is done, payment will not necessarily be made on the same basis. Rep. Williams told the Selectmen that this is normal procedure on a matching-fund basis.

"This is all we need to get this project off the ground", Mr. Williams emphasized, and he promised to keep a watchful eye on it from now on.

The state had asked for the money so that a review of the plans can be undertaken. It was explained Monday night that cutting off the project at Main st. requires the creation of plans for capping the pipe, and for diverting the present brook into the new pipe, east of Main st.

In all, the state has stated that $3,000 will be the maximum expenditure for this survey, and also has mentioned the possibility that

Glazerman Named Cadet Sergeant

CHARLES C. GLAZERMAN

Names of 266 officers and non-commissioned officers of next fall's Norwich University Corps of Cadets were announced this week.

They were chosen from an expected student body of approximately 1,025 men who will enroll for classes next September.

The military college's Cadet commissioned officers are selected from among seniors; sergeants come from the junior class; and corporals are sophomores. Freshmen are ineligible for Cadet rank.

Cadets are chosen for military rank in the Corps on the basis of their academic and military performance, their qualities of leadership, and their support of the rigid Norwich Honor Code, which sets the high standards of moral and ethical conduct for the Cadet Corps. Rank is assigned for one academic year at a time.

Charles C. Glazerman, 1 Hidden Way, was promoted to Cadet Sergeant, and named Supply Sergeant of I Company. An Andover High School graduate in 1960, he is majoring in business administration at Norwich. He is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Glazerman. He has been selected as a cheerleader for the 1962-'63 academic year.

HEARING TODAY ON PROTEST

He dropped it when re-registering June 22, after carrying the "III" after his name on the voting list since 1954.

Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien, in a ruling to town clerk Irving O. Piper, said the "III" or "Jr." or "II" are not a part of the official name, and cited court cases to back up his judgment.

Marad has contended, and will do so again this morning, that "Dean K. Webster" is not the correct name, and use of the name makes the individual inelligible. He also contends that Webster is a resident or has been living, in Cambridge and that he is not a resident of the town.

Webster says he has maintained his legal residence here, while having a business residence in Cambridge.

In taking local action, the Board of Registrars considered Marad's official request, then consulted various sections of the law pertaining to proper registrations, residence, and other material. Also considered was town counsel's ruling that the registration is legal.

Members of the Board, who agreed on the legality, were Walter S. MacDonald, Harry S. Sellars and Eugene A. Zalla.

Friends of Joan Smyth of Lowell st. will be sorry to learn that she is confined to the Lawrence General Hospital with a fractured knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Look and their family have returned to their home on Kirkland dr. after a two weeks' vacation spent at Chocorua, N. H.

be interviewed. To be discussed are the equipment, insurance, places of disposal of the garbage, and other details in the specifications.

The entire town will be covered, Mr. Duff noted, with pick-ups weekly except in the summer, when twice-weekly collections will be made.

Although only one of the bids is below the allowed expenditures, Mr. Duff told the Selectmen Monday night that it may be necessary to discuss the bids with the individuals. There was some concern that the familiar closed dump truck may not be satisfactory.

Mr. Duff said the town has the right to reject any or all bids, and he told the Selectmen that perhaps the bid for $25,500 annually could be adjusted, if this seems desirable.

Collections will begin as soon as possible, but the town manager hasn't given any specific target date.

ROAD WILL REMAIN PITTED, SCARRED

have appeared. There was hardly room for two cars to pass, at several narrow places on the road.

Mr. Duff noted Tuesday that this section should be taken care of next year under Chapter 90, as the second step in a two-step plan.

The lower section, possibly .8 of a mile, from the school to Dascomb rd. has been the subject of heated debates and at least two hearings. A third is scheduled Sept. 11 by the county commissioners.

Mr. Duff said the third hearing resulted because some residents appeared at a July 31 hearing and objected to the project. The commissioners could, he felt, have resolved the problem at that time. Instead, they put off further consideration until Sept. 11.

By that time, county engineers are supposed to have conferred with the state engineers and local officials.

According to normal procedure, a 60-foot layout is required on such a project. But in this case, because of limitations of the road and the section, the state has agreed to a 50-foot layout. This means taking about five feet on each side of the present right of way, according to the town manager.

Many residents appeared at an informal hearing in Andover earlier this summer. They complained that the extensive widening and paving project will encourage speeders and add to already-serious traffic problems. They noted that the Indian Ridge Country Club members and guests will be using the road, increasing the number of cars substantially.

There was talk of the speedway that would be created and the hazards to pedestrians.

The plans, as now proposed, include a sidewalk from Dascomb rd. to the new school. The town, however, is footing the bill for the walk. Thus the town manager finds it impossible to say just how much of it will be fully constructed this year.

He explains that a place for the walk will be created on the plans, and that the town will go as far as it can within the limits of the appropriation for sidewalk construction. Certainly, he emphasized, at least a rough walk-way will be carved out if this is needed for safety of the children.

He noted that construction of the Dascomb rd. section could easily begin by Oct. 15, if approval is given by the county commissioners at the hearing Sept. 11.

And the contractor could, he indicated, at least get a solid base on the road for the winter. Possibly the entire project could be completed, if the cold and snow hold off long enough, Duff stated. If only the base coat is ready, this will settle during the winter, and be usable during this period of time. Then the finish coat can be applied next spring, he continued.

And next year, if the second portion of the road is to be done, at least one headache will be out of the way.

It is planned to take the 50-foot right of way this year for the second section. Thus a certain amount of red tape will be disposed of now, it was explained.

Under Chapter 90, the town pays 1/4 of the cost, with the state and county contributing 1/2 and 1/4 respectively.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Dangerous Decision

The Selectmen have taken a step, in approving advance payment to the state for more Rogers Brook planning, which we believe is fraught with danger.

To be sure, the Board voted to approve payment of $1,500 only because there was no alternative, other than to see the project wither and die. But time may prove that this would have been a far wiser course of action.

As matters now stand, the town will contribute one-half of the extra engineering fees, up to a town maximum of $1,500 and a total maximum of $3,000. The town puts up its share before any work is done – the state pays the engineers on whatever basis is customary between the Division of Waterways and its consultants. And of course Duffill Associates gets the work – they have already done about $18,000 worth of engineering on this project.

In our view, it would have been wiser to wait, even though nothing could be done on the project, until all the smoke clears away from that state division. After all, its director is only suspended, and may return to the position. Other changes may be made in the make-up of the division by a new legislature, via a remodelling of the Department of Public Works. There could be a lot of danger to the town in doing business at this time, on an advance payment basis.

And remember Stoneham's experience? Without warning, on a similar project, the town was presented a bill for extras that had been approved by the state, without town knowledge.

More Money?

Recreation and athletic facilities at the high school – a practical dream at town meeting time – are having rough sledding when it comes down to getting the work started.

The plan, originally set forth in several stages, already has been changed once, in hopes that the revised portion might get done this year, within the $40,000 appropriation.

Now the bids are in, and it looks as though further revision, to a smaller segment, may be required, because there isn't money enough to do the job as it is set forth at the moment.

This would not have been the case, if the School Committee's request for an additional $10,000 had been voted at town meeting. At that time, the Finance Committee stated its convictions that the work could be done for $40,000 and the voters bought their suggestion, despite School Committee explanations indicating a contrary viewpoint.

Now we discover that even a smaller portion of the job can not be done for the $40,000. Hindsight shows that the architect's estimate of costs was more nearly on-target than the FinCom's.

At the moment, it looks as though there may be nothing accomplished at the site this year – by the time present difficulties are worked out and new bids sought, school will be in session, and most officials agree that heavy construction should not be started around a school site when the school is in use.

Maybe a further appropriation next March, to meet the actual needs, will be required to get this project off the drawing boards.

Only 10 Weeks Left

About 10 weeks remain, before a special town meeting to act on Urban Renewal.

Doesn't seem like much time, does it?

In fact, there is so little time that we are becoming concerned over the cat-and-mouse game being played by at least some town officials. They appear to be waiting for someone else to make a move, to see which way the wind is blowing before taking a public position. There is even reason to believe, from brief comments heard over the weeks, that some are opposed to Urban Renewal but won't say so.

The voters should be able to depend on their elected and appointed officials for real leadership – a full, candid declaration of opinion, supported by fact.

There is no room here for the wait-and-see attitude, for this smacks of following, not leading.

Just about now, mothers are beginning to wonder about the value of the so-called vacation, when the children have used up most of their imagination, their resources for entertainment and their ideas on what to do next - everything except their energy! Someone has suggested that now is a good time to institute a "quiet hour" for some part of each day, during which there will be diversion or rest, but must be no noise of any kind. This can develop into a kind of game in itself, and with a little thought on the part of a mother, can become a creative and restful experience.

Offers Design Of Town Hall

An artist's drawing of a renovated town hall has been presented to the town by Fred E. Cheever.

In making the presentation to the Selectmen Monday night, Mr. Cheever flatly informed the Board "I'm against Urban Renewal".

"They're planning to tear down this fine building", he told the Board, and "it's the same to Andover as Faneuil Hall is to Boston"

Mr. Cheever commissioned artist Jack Frost to draw his conception of a renovated exterior, thus salvaging the structure.

He suggested to the Selectmen that the present fire station could be connected to the town hall, and used for municipal offices and meeting rooms.

The fire station should be located on the Square and Compass Club property, he felt, because of the easy access in several directions.

Mr. Cheever, in concluding his brief presentation, commented "They may think they are going to have clear sailing, but I doubt it".

Selectman William Stewart, who joined his colleagues in thanking Mr. Cheever for his ideas on the subject, noted "It's the first concrete idea I've seen yet".

Street Lighting Was Improved

Street lighting has been vastly improved in three sections of the town, according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

The Electric Co. has informed the manager that the following changes have been made:

Three 3,500 lumen mercury vapor lights have been installed on Haggett's Pond rd., near the new St. Robert Bellarmine Church.

An older 1,000 lumen light at Canterbury and Lowell sts. has been replaced by a 7,000 lumen light.

Two lights, of 21,000 lumens, have replaced two 2,500 lumen lights at the intersection of Lowell and Beacon sts. and Reservation rd.

Improvements are also being planned along Main st., Mr. Duff said.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence J. LaBrie, formerly of Birch rd., have recently moved to Allentown, Pa.

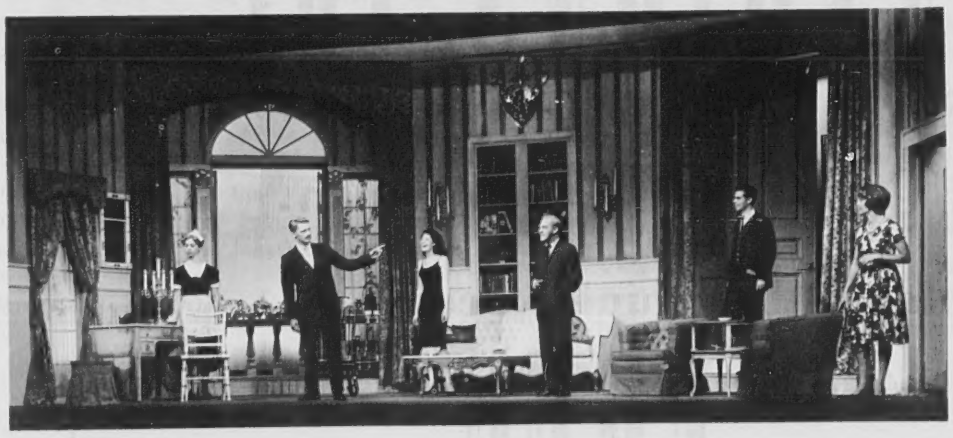
Sets by THE STUDIO SHOPPE . . .



This Was The Challenge . . .

Theater sets are an exacting field. Sets, too, are "on stage" and must project personality, as must the actors. So, when we were asked to furnish the sets for the Windham Playhouse this season we rose to the challenge. The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune reviewer had the following to say about our work:

EAGLE-TRIBUNE JULY 25th
"MARRIAGE GO ROUND"

The setting—the Delville living room—was superb. As for last week's production, a Lawrence concern supplied stunning furnishings.

EAGLE-TRIBUNE JULY 18th
"AFFAIRS OF STATE"

Company's best of the three vehicles presented so far and the play has been enhanced by a handsome set (courtesy of a local furniture store), excellent lighting, and a professional cast growing comfortable in its rural setting.

Furnishing and decorating challenges bring out our best at The Studio Shoppe Why not ask us to help you plan a room or a home? There is no fee and we're eager to meet YOUR challenge. And, you can afford OUR suggestions!

Explaining the situation to the Selectmen Monday night, Mr. Duff said there may be a possibility of calling for new bids, and then gambling on the absence of ledge. Or, he suggested, a successful bidder might be moved around on the site to dodge ledge, if it is found.

Either course of action would be subject to further approval from the Selectmen, it was felt. Member William Stewart insisted that additional information be brought before the Board, if new bids or changes in the proposal are to be considered.

In addition to the Schofield bid, the following proposals were received:

L. C. Cyr Construction Co., Lawrence, $49,000; Gargulinski Brothers, $48,894; Gerard Leone, $56,500; J. J. Ryan Construction Co., $52,000 and Smith Brothers, $50,000.

Another factor in considering additional changes in the specifications is the time element.

School officials have previously been concerned that heavy construction should not interfere with operation of the high school this September. They have expressed the opinion that this serves as a distraction, and a possible danger, to the students.

However, it is believed that there is no chance to get this portion of the work done before school opens.

Weddings...

THOMPSON — LLOYD

Miss Mary Elizabeth Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Lloyd of Andover, became the bride of Lincoln Thompson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Thompson of Cheshire, Conn., July 28.

"When a man saved money in an English bank 350 years ago, his deposit was recorded by notches in a stick which was then split. The bank kept one half of the stick, the depositer the other. Before money could be withdrawn the two halves had to be matched together."

Rather a primitive system, indeed, when compared to the modern recording methods and up to date banking facilities and equipment used here at Andover Savings. And it's all for one purpose; to make saving easy, convenient and more plesant for our depositors.

SIMILAR MEDICINES MAY DIFFER GREATLY

For instance, — basically all aspirin is chemically Acetyl-salicylic acid. But, when made into five grain tablets, without proper care and testing, some tablets may contain less or even no aspirin, while others have much more.

There are always firms that can produce any product for less by eliminating some labor and expensive testing that assures accuracy. When buying any medicine, we urge you never to get any but those made by time-tested firms with reputations to maintain. We follow this policy in our pharmacy.

Required Reading

Students of Andover High School have been working on their required reading lists during the summer, as indicated by the turnover on the special shelves where the books for all three years have been placed. Each student was given a copy of the booklist for his grade, and a few extra copies were left at the Memorial Hall Library. A limit has been placed to two books at a time to a student because of the large demand.

Those who live in the Ballardvale area will find a good number of the required titles available at the branch room, which is open Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 and 6-8 o'clock. The two to a reader limit applies to these books at the branch room, also.

Registered?

Mothers of children who are three, four or five may wish to pre-register their children for one of the Littlest Listener groups to be held at the library and at the branch room at Ballardvale this fall. In recent years it has become necessary to close registration after a certain number has been reached, because too large a group proved itself unsatisfactory. Two groups were formed for Memorial Hall Library meeting on alternate Wednesday mornings. Another group in Ballardvale held its meetings every other Thursday morning.

Registration slips are available in both the Children's room and the branch room and mothers have begun to sign up future Littlest Listeners already.

Going To New York?

If you don't mind the heat in New York in the summer, you may wish to include a trip there during your August vacation. If so, pick up the small booklet just added to the library - "New York On Your House". Everything in it is free. Each page is filled with exciting and unusual free entertainment and fun. More than 300 places to go and things to do are there.

Required Reading

Students of Andover High School have been working on their required reading lists during the summer, as indicated by the turnover on the special shelves where the books for all three years have been placed. Each student was given a copy of the booklist for his grade, and a few extra copies were left at the Memorial Hall Library. A limit has been placed to two books at a time to a student because of the large demand.

Those who live in the Ballardvale area will find a good number of the required titles available at the branch room, which is open Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 and 6-8 o'clock. The two to a reader limit applies to these books at the branch room, also.

Registered?

Mothers of children who are three, four or five may wish to pre-register their children for one of the Littlest Listener groups to be held at the library and at the branch room at Ballardvale this fall. In recent years it has become necessary to close registration after a certain number has been reached, because too large a group proved itself unsatisfactory. Two groups were formed for Memorial Hall Library meeting on alternate Wednesday mornings. Another group in Ballardvale held its meetings every other Thursday morning.

Registration slips are available in both the Children's room and the branch room and mothers have begun to sign up future Littlest Listeners already.

Going To New York?

If you don't mind the heat of New York in the summer, you may wish to include a trip there during your August vacation. If so, pick up the small booklet just added to the library - "New York On The House". Everything in it is free. Each page is filled with exciting and unusual free entertainment and fun. More than 300 places to go and things to do are there.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago – August, 1912

Miss Lulu Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Abbott, has been appointed district nurse.

Smith and Dove Company awarded prizes this year for the best gardens at the homes of their tenants. James Nicoll, James McGrath and Patrick Sullivan received sums of money as prizes.

The tax rate was announced this week at $16 - the same as it has been for four years.

Isham infirmary is nearing completion at Phillips Academy.

James McGhie has been appointed janitor of the Bradlee School, in place of Herbert Clarke, who has resigned.

Fred Findley, a former resident of the town, who has not been here for over 30 years, has been spending a few days renewing old friendships.

Miss Carrie French of the Vale has been spending a month in Brookfield.

25 Years Ago – August, 1937

The new pumper answered its first fire alarm early Tuesday morning. It was summoned to help fight a fire just over the Tewksbury line at the former Lewis Saunders place. The house was burned to the ground, because notice of the fire was so long in being transmitted to the fire department. At that, Andover had to notify Tewksbury because no one at the scene thought to call the home-town department.

Little Stories about Great Hymns

O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go

O Love that will not let me go, I rest my weary soul in thee;
I give thee back the life I owe,
That in thine ocean depths its flow May richer, fuller be.

Dr. Matheson writes, "Something had happened to me which caused the most severe mental suffering. The hymn was the fruit of that suffering. It was the quickest bit of work I ever did in my life. I had the impression it was dictated to me by some inward voice, rather than of working it out myself. I am quite sure it was completed in five minutes. I have no natural gift of rhythm . . . this came like a dayspring from on high. I have never again gained the same fervor in verse."

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — August, 1912

Miss Lulu Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Abbott, has been appointed district nurse.

Smith and Dove Company awarded prizes this year for the best gardens at the homes of their tenants. James Nicoll, James McGrath and Patrick Sullivan received sums of money as prizes.

The tax rate was announced this week at $16 - the same as it has been for four years.

Isham infirmary is nearing completion at Phillips Academy.

James McGhie has been appointed janitor of the Bradlee School, in place of Herbert Clarke, who has resigned.

Fred Findley, a former resident of the town, who has not been here for over 30 years, has been spending a few days renewing old friendships.

Miss Carrie French of the Vale has been spending a month in Brookfield.

25 Years Ago — August, 1937

The new pumper answered its first fire alarm early Tuesday morning. It was summoned to help fight a fire just over the Tewksbury line at the former Lewis Saunders place. The house was burned to the ground, because notice of the fire was so long in being transmitted to the fire department. At that, Andover had to notify Tewksbury because no one at the scene thought to call the home-town department.

An innovation in playground activities will be innaugurated next week when amateur nights are held at all three playgrounds.

More town departments have responded favorably to the Taxpayers Association request that a representative be allowed to sit in on budget discussions.

Fire alarm box 52 was sounded at 6:45 this morning, and when firemen responded to a home on North st., they found a horse had fallen through a scuttle hole in the barn. They retrieved the animal without injury, but with much hard effort.

Two trucks were badly damaged Tuesday afternoon on Chandler rd. when they collided head-on. Bushes at a corner were blamed by both drivers for hiding their view of approaching traffic.

10 Years Ago — August, 1952

The worst drought in 134 years is making life a misery for local farmers. Only those areas that can be irrigated are producing anywhere near the usual amount of produce.

Bus fares to Lawrence go from 15 to 20 cents Sunday.

Vandals smeared paint over the walls and doors at St. Augustine's church this week. The Church is being redecorated, and the vandalism required an extra day of work by the workmen.

July was a whiz, building-wise, with $430,000 in new construction allowed by the building inspector. This was double the July figures of 1951 and was the largest single month on record here. A factory at Tyer Rubber accounted for $200,000 and there were 13 homes, a store and a number of miscellaneous smaller items.

95 Have Finished Course

A fourth class for beginners started this week at Pomp's Pond, with a total of 95 graduates already on the rolls for the year.

Young people can still be admitted to the class, which began Monday, according to Donald D. Dunn.

He has also announced that a few more reservations for the clam bake, scheduled for Aug. 12, can be made. The 6 p.m. affair usually accommodates about 50 persons. The same afternoon, at 3 p.m., the Lawrence Concert Band will present a concert.

The latest class of beginners to pass their Red Cross certificate requirements included the following children:

Colette April, Kimberley Brown, Linda Brown, Robin Brown, Diane Crossley, Jeffrey Dimmock, John Gray, Cyndy Guest, Andrea Gulezian, Mike Hershon.

$2,000 may be sufficient. If this is the case, the town will receive a credit for any part of its $1,500 remaining after engineering fees are paid.

Duffill Associates, who are on record as receiving at least $18,000 for Rogers Brook plans over the past few years, will do the work.

Rep. Williams commented that the firm should do the work because of its familiarity with the project.

Selectman Philip K. Allen, although he made the eventual motion to pay the money, was skeptical.

He predicted that engineering fees will use up practically all of the $3,000, and thought it unlikely that there will be much of a credit remaining for the town.

He added, in the motion, a restriction that the state send vouchers for the expenditures, so that it can be seen how the consulting engineers break down their fees.

Rep. Williams, who claimed he never took too much active interest in the project before because "there was something sinister about it", feels that the Division of Waterways is in good hands. Two professional engineers are now doing the business of the Division, he noted, and can be trusted by the town.

Members of the Board and Town Manager Duff agreed that the town must either put up the money or face losing the project completely.

A recent letter from the state made this apparent, it was felt, and thus the town finds little else to do but go along.

During the discussion, it was noted by Rep. Williams that the Division of Waterways supposedly had been charging 50 percent of engineering fees on all of the matching fund projects. The town has never been asked to pay a cent for Rogers Brook work, although this has always been discussed on a 50-50 basis.

Heavy Turnout At Registration

"If this keeps on, we'll have an unusually heavy registration", commented Town Clerk Irving O. Piper Wednesday morning.

He was referring to the Tuesday evening session of the Board of Registrars at the Grange hall in Precinct four, when 59 residents appeared to register to vote.

The first session, in the Sacred Heart School in Shawsheen, saw 26 persons register.

And in all, since the first of July, over 140 men and women have registered to vote.

The next session is tonight, at the Ballardvale fire station, from 7-9 p.m. Aug. 14, the Board will be at the Peabody House on Phillips st., again from 7-9. And the final date for registration before the Sept. 18 primary is Aug. 17, from noon to 10 p.m., at the town hall.

The number of residents appearing to register is in startling contrast to some similar sessions in the past, when fewer than 10 persons would appear.
